4. Services Fees & Compensation

The Advisory client may participate in one or more of the Adviser advisory services. The scope of such services is determined at the time such services are requested. Services are subject to the provisions of the respective agreements, including the provisions relating to separate payment of fees and the limitations of Adviser's duties and liabilities.

The firm currently manages client assets under the following investment programs:

- Managed Discretionary Fusion Portfolio:
Under this program the firm uses discretionary authority granted by the client to buy and sell equity, ETF and no-load¹ mutual fund investments suitable to achieve client's long term capital appreciation goals.
- The Balanced Portfolio:
The balanced portfolio provides advisory services for client accounts on a discretionary and non-discretionary basis. Customized portfolios are created for clients based on the individual income and growth needs. The portfolio may include investments in no-load² mutual funds, exchange traded funds, equity & index options, domestic equity securities and fixed income securities.

Management fees ("fees") are based on the market value of assets under management at the closing date of the previous quarter. Funds added or withdrawn from an account during the previous quarter are charged on a pro-rata basis. Initially, fees are billed on a prorated basis from inception of the account for the remainder of the calendar quarter and quarterly in advance thereafter.

The fee schedule below for details on fee charged to client accounts:

Program Type	Quarterly (%)	Annually (%)
Managed Discretionary Fusion	0.375%	1.50%
The Balanced Portfolio	0.375%	1.50%

The management fees are non-negotiable.³

¹ A mutual fund in which shares are sold without a commission or sales charge.

² A mutual fund in which shares are sold without a commission or sales charge.

³ Some clients have been grand fathered into a lower fee schedule

Fees are automatically deducted from the Client's account on a quarterly basis, in advance⁴. Clients who terminate during the quarter will receive a pro-rata reimbursement for pre-paid fees at the time of account closing.

Typically, the client is charged a single quarterly fee which includes the Adviser's advisory, clearing and custody fee as well as the cost of all transactions executed through Excel Securities & Associates, Inc., Member FINRA, SIPC. The Adviser uses the clearing and custody services of Pershing⁵ for safekeeping assets and Excel Securities & Associates for execution of securities transactions for its clients.

There may be situations when a mutual fund or other vehicle will be used to fill a specific asset class. Mutual funds, or other vehicles that may be used in the clients account, may have charges and expenses that are imposed independent of the Adviser and may include investment management administrative and transaction expenses. Therefore, in cases where mutual funds or other vehicles are used, the client may be charged the underlying management fee for these mutual funds or other vehicles. These are explained fully in the prospectuses or other disclosure documents that the custodian delivers to clients.

Clients are free to choose or change broker dealers, provided that the chosen broker dealer can provide adequate services as determined by the Adviser. In the event, such brokerage cannot provide such services, to be determined by Adviser, Adviser may be unable to accept management of the portfolio. A client choosing another broker dealer to direct brokerage transactions is responsible for negotiating fees or commissions with that broker dealer, unless Adviser has a wrap fee arrangement with such broker dealer. The client is responsible to independently determine whether the commissions charged or execution effected is done at rates or prices that are better than could be obtained had Adviser directed the trade. In such circumstances, the client will receive trade confirmations directly from the designated broker (or its clearing firm) and pay brokerage commissions in accordance with the designated broker's schedule of rates or whatever arrangement the client has negotiated.

Compensation under the wrap fee schedule may be more or less than purchasing such services separately. The cost of providing services separately would be affected by individual charges for custody, interest and dividend processing, disbursements, statements, valuation, research, advice and trading. These costs are also influenced by the number of securities in a portfolio and the amount of trading.

⁴ Fee are deducted by Excel Securities & Associates for the benefit of the adviser

⁵ Pershing is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and SIPC

In addition to the annual asset based wrap fee, the accounts under this program may also be charged the following fees for third party services:

Retirement account closing fee: A one-time fee of $95.00 may be charged by Pershing LLC. for closing a retirement account.

Paper statements & confirms: For clients choosing a paper statement & confirm delivery services a fee of $0.75 per delivery may be charged by Pershing LLC.

Annual Retirement Maintenance fee: A fee of $35.00 may be charged by Pershing LLC. for annual retirement account maintenance.

5. Account Requirements & Types of Clients

Parks Capital is proud to offer to its services to a diverse range of clients. Our clients include high net worth individuals, retirement accounts, charitable trusts, pension & profit sharing plans for small & mid size companies.

While we focus more on the quality of our client base as oppose to their account size, we do have to maintain a minimum opening account size of $500,000 to make our services effective for the client. On occasion, there may be certain circumstances where the minimum account size may be waived.

6. Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

Investments for portfolios are determined by Portfolio Managers, who apply standards and practices established by the firm in analyzing and making investment decisions. Portfolio Managers are required to have a relevant university degree and/or extensive industry experience and/or extensive knowledge and understanding of portfolio management theory and investing portfolios. All Parks Capital employees are encouraged to supplement their formal education and experience through various industry-related educational programs. Gina Griffo and Rajiv Dixit co-manage client portfolios. Managers are reviewed annually by Parks Capital's Investment Committee and will be replaced if long term performance and/or stability of portfolios are unsatisfactory. Portfolio Managers make investment decisions collaboratively for all clients.

Performance is compared to appropriate indexes based on the account allocations. Performance information reported by Pershing is reviewed for accuracy by the firm on a regular basis. Performance is presented net of fees quarterly.

Parks Capital's only investment strategies are those developed by Gina Griffo and Rajiv Dixit. They are the firm's two portfolio managers. This arrangement creates a conflict of interest in that portfolio managers could place their own or Parks Capital's interests before a client's interest. The potential conflicts and how they are addressed by Parks Capital's Code of Ethics is more fully described in the Additional Information section.

7. Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

The wrap programs offered by the firm are managed by the firm's principals Ms. Gina Griffo & Mr. Rajiv Dixit. Client's suitability and other information is actively available to the manager due to their role in the firm.

Parks Capital tailors its advisory services to the individual needs of clients by reviewing a client's personal information, goals and risk tolerance before the client enrolls in any sponsored program. Parks Capital's Investment Management Agreement includes a disclosure statement and a suitability questionnaire that all potential clients are asked to complete. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities as part of this initial review, and may impose restrictions on their accounts at any time. Clients are requested to inform Parks Capital of any changes in the information provided at account inception and to review this information at least annually in writing.

Suitability reviews are offered to clients on a Bi- Annual basis; Investment performance reports, provided by Pershing, are reviewed by the principals of the firm upon receipt and with the client periodically upon request.
